

| Plant Name  | Scientific | Common                | Family                        | Date reviewed 10/2022 |
|---|------------|-----------------------|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Aquilegia 'Swan Violet & White'  |            | REMEMBRANCE columbine | Ranunculaceae |                       |
| Propagation Method  |            | Native to             |                               |                       |
| Seed  |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Treatments (Suggested procedures)   |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Seed germinates somewhat irregularly. Thinly cover. Prefers 65-75F to germinate.      |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Collection Timing and Strategies  |            |                       |                               |                       |
|   |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Cultural Information  |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Greenhouse conditions   |            |                       |                               |                       |
|   |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Garden conditions   |            |                       |                               |                       |
|   |            |                       |                               |                       |
| Other Expert Advice   |            |                       |                               |                       |
|  |            |                       |                               |                       |